

Color Run FAQ's

Do I have to participate in the Color Run to attend the event? No. This event is free and open to the public.

Who can register to participate in the Color Run? Everyone! The 2018 AEA Color Run & Auction is open to the public. AEA students, their families, friends and community members are encouraged to register online at: events.myschoolcolorrn.com. Remember to provide the name of your home school when registering online (for example, if you're a student at AEA SCV, your family and friends who are participating should choose AEA SCV as their home school.)

I don't want to participate in the Color Run but I'd like to make a monetary donation on behalf of a registered runner. How do I do that? Very simple. Just log into events.myschoolcolorrn.com, select the AEA Color Run Event and follow the prompts. Again, indicate the home school of the person you are sponsoring or would like your donation to be earmarked on the second screen.

Is the run a timed event? No. The 3K Fun Run features two start times. There are no winners or losers. Runners/Walkers go at their own pace.

What is the color made of? What about people with asthma/breathing issues? There are two color components. First, there is the liquid color (liquid food coloring mixed with water) which is sprayed on the runners throughout the course. The second component is the individual color packets (consisting of corn starch mixed with food coloring. Those with asthma/breathing issues should not be in the middle of the final color powder celebration at the finish line but rather on the edge as they would avoid any really dusty situation.

Besides the Color Run, what else is happening at the event? Tons of Stuff! There will be live entertainment, food trucks and a silent and live auction. In addition, we will be attempting to set a World Record for the most Einsteins in one photo at 1:30 that afternoon. We need at least 450 people in the photo to do this!
